Where: Town of Los Altos Hills Council Chambers

Increase the beauty of your landscape while you reduce your water bill. Drought tolerant plantings do not necessarily mean native plants (but it can include natives!). There is such a wide range of low water use plantings such as hedges and trees for screening, shrubs, vines, grasses, and so many more. It is possible to have virtually any garden aesthetic that you want, using plants that do well with minimal water application.

Please join us for this fun and informative event. Seating is limited so please reserve your spot by sending an email to Alexis Shields at ashields@purissimawater.org. Be sure to include your name, call back number, and how many people in your party. You may also call the District office at (650) 948-1217 and talk with Alexis or leave her a message.
